

Montgomery, South Launch Series

Coaches Expect Tough Ball Game

By HENRY BURKE
Press-Herald Sports Editor

A pleasant addition to the high school football schedule is the intersectional game Friday between South High and Bishop Montgomery at Spartan Field. This series was arranged after two years in which the two schools scrimmaged each other.

Bishop Montgomery comes off a 27-12 win over Mira Costa while South recuperates from an 18-6 loss to Marina. South Coach Herb Richey described the first game by accenting inexperience. "We made a lot of mistakes against a good team. Marina was a little bigger and quicker. The films show our blocking broke down. We need another strong back to team with Jeff Wang."

Richey expects nothing less than another tough game from Bishop Montgomery in the home opener.

"Montgomery completely outplayed our Bay League counterpart Mira Costa," said Richey. "The team has no apparent weakness and we will have a tough job defending against Quarterback Greg Collins who had 13 completions last Friday."

South's defensivemen John Sarpolis, Larry Stanley and Dick Yates were commended by Richey for their consistent good efforts against Marina. "Offensive center John McTaggart was outstanding. He suffered a groin injury and his status for Friday is uncertain," said Richey.

The only major shakeup in the South lineup will be Mike Farber at fullback. Mike has been playing defensive halfback and may be able to provide added blocking.

The only change in the Montgomery lineup will be Joe Burian taking over at left tackle.

Coach George Swade says he cannot help but be pleased with a convincing win over school like Mira Costa, but he underscored how the team made mistakes running pass patterns and blocking.

"We expect a real battle from South. We will work up a storm at practice," said Swade. "We know Wang is a great back," he said.

One thing pleasing to Swade is the willingness of this year's team to live up to caliber of last year's performance. The Knights won 11 games before losing to Morningside in the CIF "AAA" semi-finals.

Compared with last year when Montgomery played Lennox in its second game and South opposed El Segundo, the new hometown series has a better approach to a better all-around football season.

Carson, Narbonne Clash

In the minds of many high school football experts, Narbonne and Carson will play in the "city championship playoffs semi-finals" Friday night as they open the 1967 Marine League campaign at Harbor College's Seahawk Field.

Inasmuch as the Marine League race produced the strongest teams in the city last fall and a great battle for the league title prior to Carson sweeping the playoffs, Carson, Gardena, and Narbonne have been installed favorites to clear all hurdles this fall.

Coach Jack Bobinette's Narbonne club, which has not won the Marine crown since 1949 when Bill Stits and Dale Atkeson were wearing Gaucho stirrups, impressed with a 34-7 conquest of Eastern League champ Huntington Park last Friday afternoon.

Coach Gene Vollnogle's seemingly overconfident Colts had to press mightily to beat another Eastern League club, Bell, which lost all eight games in '66. Carson won, 6-0, piling up a 181 to 102 total offense edge.

Carson defeated Narbonne for the first time, 19-7, last fall.

Injuries to All-City flanker Ron Carver and 3rd All-City quarterback Jim Sander may prove fatal to Carson this week. Carver has been out with a muscle spasm in his back and could be shelved for three weeks; Sander incurred a hip point in the first half against Bell and merely handed off the ball for the balance of the game. Both of them are doubtful for Narbonne, according to Vollnogle who has shifted Mateo Nuez from halfback to QB and installed Jim Escheler at Carver's spot.

Russell Gets Acting Job

It's actor Bill Russell now. The Boston Celtics' player-coach has a contract from Hollywood to appear in an episode in former Celtics' Chuck Connors' new series which will be titled "Cowboy in Africa."

Cougars Invade West

When Hawthorne decided to "ease" its preseason football schedule this year, West High School must have looked like a snap. At least playing West was better than playing somebody like Long Beach Poly again.

Although no explanation has been given why Hawthorne was lured to West High for a Friday night's engagement, Warrior Coach Fred Peterson is satisfied with the deal. His team got off to its best opening game in history last Friday (33-0 over La Puente) and his confident Warriors are primed for the Hawthorne test.

Peterson believes the game will mean a lot to the school. It signals the start of new era which will sweep West High into the Bay League next fall.

Hawthorne is known for its defense, but to make it work this week the Cougars will have to stop spectacular running Dave Boyd. He is the finest football player in the seven-year duration of West High.

Even the quarterbacking, questionable when Coy Hall broke an arm during the summer, has been steered by Jim Parton.

It is apparent, then, if Hawthorne went looking for a soft touch, it was not aware of West High's current surge towards the bigtime.

NORTH HIGH is celebrating a 14-7 opening win over reputable Glendale (last Saturday) and the Saxons are now tuned in to Santa Ana Valley for their home debut Friday.

Santa Ana Valley has been one of the leading teams in the CIF in recent years. Some of the thunder went out of the team last weekend against Long Beach Poly (32-0), but Poly can beat almost anybody 32-0!

Glendale and North went into the dressing room at halftime with a 7-7 score, but a fourth quarter touchdown gave the Saxons the victory. North ..... 0 7 0 7-14

Chuck Benedict To Be Speaker

Chuck Benedict, public relations representative for the Los Angeles Rams, will address the South Bay Athletic Club Friday in the Plusin Horse Restaurant.

Benedict, also sports director for radio station KLAC, will discuss the Rams' chances of keeping their record perfect against the Dallas Cowboys Sunday in Dallas.

Pop Warner Under Way In Torrance

The Torrance Bollermakers blanked the Redondo Admirals, 25-0, in an opening Pop Warner league game Sunday at West High.

The Torrance Bruins and Little Bulls both won games in the clinic division.

Sky League Roundup

By HENRY BURKE
Press-Herald Sports Editor

For a while it appeared the Sky League would be won by Morningside High School without even a contest this year. Let this be a warning, however, Torrance and Rolling Hills will give Morningside a battle on successive Fridays, Nov. 3 and Nov. 10. Leuzinger will not be a pushover either. The Sky League campaign is going to be interesting after all.

Morningside has by no means lost ground in its bid to become the best high school team in the county. The Monarchs may have even picked up a few votes following a 40-19 win over Aviation High last weekend.

But Rolling Hills uncorked a 26-0 win over El Segundo and Torrance gave Bay League powerhouse Redondo a 20-19 scare. Leuzinger came within 14-7 of tough Inglewood.

If the Tartars can get worked up over their next three opponents the way they did against Redondo Friday night, they will be a definite contender. Torrance has an open date Friday, but following are Paramount, Aviation and Leuzinger. They provide an ideal buildup for Rolling Hills, Culver City and Morningside.

The winner of the Torrance-Rolling Hills game will probably play Morningside for the championship.

If playing the toughest games at the end of the year means anything, Leuzinger needs only to knock off Torrance on opening night (Oct. 20) and the Olympians have until Nov. 10 to meet Rolling Hills and Nov. 17 to meet Morningside.

What makes Morningside particularly tough is its speed and all-around maturity. Everett Marshall, who muffed up Bishop Montgomery in the CIF playoffs last year, started off against Aviation last Friday by racing 40 and 65 yards for touchdown runs and he caught a 45 yard touchdown pass.

Coach Harold Warfle and his Torrance staff would be wise to scout every Morningside game from now on. Not only will the information be valuable, but Morningside is obviously an exciting team to watch.

After meeting rival Inglewood High Friday, Morningside runs into North High Oct. 6. North High is our personal choice to win the Bay League, so the game should be quite a test for both clubs.

The Rolling Hills varsity is noted for its savvy. Paul Fieri, John Papadakis, Daryl Arenstein and QB Greg Halverson will give a good account of themselves.

Torrance appears to have more talent than Coach Warfle wants anybody to know about. He may have been reluctant to list Mike Van Kralingen in the starting lineup last week for fear he would have to spell the boy's name, but Mike did a great job against Redondo, and will be a fixture on offense.

Quarterbacks Dennis Watkins and Kim Brooks could be better than anything Torrance has had since Ron Veres. Spread end Mike McGuire is an open field threat. He will be tough to handle on pass patterns.

All Torrance needs to be convincing is a little more running game. Maybe the Tartars just didn't show everything in the first game!

Cross Country Title Won by South Runners

By bunching five men from 4th to 32nd, South High won the Long Beach Invitational "AAA" division cross country meet Friday at state college.

The Spartans beat Westminster which had 95 points. Ten schools were entered in the race.

The order of finish for South was George Watson (4th), 10:36; Decker Underwood (5th) 10:38; Jeff Walker (10th), 10:54; Tim Trickle (22nd), 11:13; Larry Regunfuss (32nd) 11:21.

The junior varsity was second with Westminster first.

50 Drivers To Compete

Fifty of the West's top super-modified racing drivers will clash Saturday night at Gardena's Ascot Park.

The "Flying Wing" superior half-mile clay oval will be the scene of the ARA modified hard-tops will race on the quarter-mile oval.

The score was 52-67. Barton Doyle of South won the race in the time of 11:19.

LACC lost its opener last weekend to Long Beach, 40-7. Long Beach will run into El Camino in the first Metropolitan Conference game on Saturday, Oct. 7.

ALL EIGHT Metropolitan Conference football teams will be in action in attempting to enhance the Metro's 6-2 record.

In the only Friday game, Harbor invades Santa Monica. Saturday night's schedule has San Diego at Bakersfield, Phoenix at Cerritos, East Los Angeles at Southwestern, Glendale at Long Beach, Reedley at Rio Hondo, and Valley at Pierce.

Defending conference champ Santa Monica scored its ninth straight victory in two seasons by shelling San Mateo, 55-20. Bakersfield pounded Fresno, 37-6, in Los Angeles City College. It QUARTERBACK . . . Dana Clyde is the weapon El Camino College is counting upon to win the Metropolitan Conference football title this year. Clyde is a sophomore veteran from Redondo.

El Camino Winner 'Depends on Dana'

El Camino College will have a "Dana Clyde" football season. Dana Clyde is a sophomore quarterback who shoulders the responsibility of running the Warriors' offense this year. He has the pass receivers and running backs to be a winner. The defense is also sharp. So all El Camino has to do to be a champion is have quarterback Dana Clyde on the beam all the time.

Dana has had a sporadic but successful background. During eight years at Camino, Redondo High and with the Pop Warner kids, his teams have always been in the pennant race.

Dana's sophomore debut last week resulted in a 35-7 win over Pierce College. He threw three touchdown passes and ran a "slug" of backs against the Brahmas for a 5-touchdown assault.

El Camino opens its home slate Saturday night against Los Angeles City College. It will be the second and concluding non-conference contest.

Rio Hondo outlasted San Diego Mesa, 29-21. Courageous East Los Angeles, behind 21-0 at the half, fought back gamely against Glendale after intermission, but fell short, 28-19.

Another devastating passing attack, which coach Jim Powers is so adept at building, ruined San Mateo: Norm Donaldson completed 17 of 26 passes for 219 yards and three TDs in only the first half.

The other offensive star for the Corsairs was Gene Martin, who rushed for 179 yards, including a 70-yard TD gallop. He also caught a touchdown pass from Donaldson. SMCC's total offense was a sensation at 562 yards.

Bakersfield's quarterbacks paced the Renegades' potent attack. Carl Smith hurled two scoring passes, while second-stringer Don Kennedy tallied twice on runs.

Rio Hondo's win was engineered by QB Bruce Vink, who fired three TD passes, two of them to Dennis Curran (62 and 18 yards). Flanker Gene Parsons caught the other one, an 8-yarder.

John Featherstone shared two touchdown passes to spearhead El Camino against Pierce.

Apprentice Jockey

To say that Canada's sensational young apprentice jockey is out of the ordinary would be putting it mildly. Ordinarily a rider "loses the bug" — the (*) appearing beside his name on the program which denotes an apprentice — a year from the date of his first winner or, if he has not been too successful, after his 40th winner. Not infrequently when he loses the bug he also loses his following among horsemen because he is no longer entitled to the 5-pound weight allowance on the horses he rides. Neither is the case with Richard Grubb. His first winner, a horse named No Kidding on which he nosed out no less a rival than Avellino Gomez, Canada's perennial leading rider, came on August 14, 1966. However, Grubb did not ride during the winter months and thus has 123 extra days of apprenticeship. Nor is it likely that horsemen will quickly forget him when he no longer has the 5-pound allowance.

The 18-year-old Ridgeway, Ontario youth is bidding to take the riding crown from "El Perfecto" this year; he was the leading rider at Fort Erie and Woodbine. A year ago he was happy to get a mount. Today his name is permanently inscribed in the record book with a North American record of seven consecutive winners on the afternoon of May 16 at Woodbine.

Grubb's feat, incidentally, was equaled on July 4, at East Boston's Suffolk Downs, when Jockey LeRoy Moyers was successful with seven consecutive mounts.
